TORRANCE G.A.A. REPRESENTED AT LA JOLLA PARLEY

By BEVERLY HOPKINS
La Jolla was the goal of the G.A.A. conference representatives for the weekend of April 10.

It was a wonderful weekend and profitable also. That was the opinion of Pauline Jean Wanda Holloman, Beverly Hopkins and Miss Doris Avis of Torrance High School, the Girls Athletic representatives to the Southern California Girls' Athletic Conference held at La Jolla High School.

The conference is a yearly procedure with 66 schools participating in the activities during the day. One of the highlights of the day was the registration of the schools with the business meeting following. The election of the 1948 officers was included in the meeting. A.G. A.F. song contest was a special feature which included the selection of the best song submitted in the contest. The guest speaker for the day was C. Russell Henzie, Y.M.C.A. representative who spoke on "Youth Hostelling." His talk was of great interest to the girls and his color pictures of Europe in 1938 proved to be quite an experience. Demonstrations were in order with the Creative Dance being first. A tennis demonstration, given by Pat Todd, a well-known professional tennis player, and her husband Dick Todd helped the girls to learn some of the tricks of the trade.

The remainder of the day was spent sunning and swimming on the beach with a few discussion groups in between. The students from Torrance High returned home tired but with many new ideas.

SALVATION ARMY 'PLANS WAREHOUSE' SALVAGE WEEK

"It's so easy to give the only kind of help asked for in the salvage campaign of the Salvation Army's social service department that almost every family in Torrance should have the pleasure of participating in helping this excellent cause along."

So said Mayor J. Hugh Sherfey, Jr., general chairman in this city for the department's 1948 campaign, to climax in "Salvage Week," April 25-May 1.

"The Salvation Army," he continued, "asks only for things that folks are ready, or about ready, to throw away, anyhow. They can make such things over and use them to such worthwhile purposes that citizens should be both happy and proud to dispose of used garments, shoes, furnishings, and various miscellaneous articles in this way, instead of wasting them by throwing them away literally. Especially does this means of aiding such humanitarian services deserve support because of the fact that the social department does not ask the public for money or for help in any other way."

The YMCA (Torrance 1356) will be the local call station for the campaign. Collections of throwaways will be made upon receipt of calls from any part of town reporting that such contributions are ready.

"Throwaways Make Work That Pays" is the slogan of the campaign. Placards calling attention to "Salvage Week" soon will be posted in Torrance.

Mayor Sherfey's co-workers on the Torrance campaign committee are: Rev. C. Miles Northrup, L. Milton Isbell, and Fire Chief J. E. McMaster, to all of whom, as well as the press, he gave much credit for the increasingly evident interest of Torrance citizens in the drive.

PTA REPORTS SHOW NOTABLE ANNUAL GROWTH

Banded together "to promote the welfare of children and youth in home, school, church, and community" are 690,321 mothers, fathers, and teachers in California.

The final 1947-48 membership of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers was announced by Mrs. Marvin Owen of North Hollywood. State membership chairman, as a result of tabulations of annual reports throughout the State. Representing a gain of 81,567 over the previous year's membership total and a marked increase in men membership, this notable growth is attributed in large measure to a growing awareness on the part of parents and teachers of the need for closer home-school relationships.

Reporting the largest membership of any state branch of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, the California Congress has unflinchingly endorsed legislation affecting the welfare of children in school and community, supplied student aid in the form of loans, awarded scholarships in the fields of education and psychiatric social work, sought higher standards in motion picture and radio program evaluation, supported youth groups and character building agencies, and participated in civic and community affairs.

New members, Mesdames Clara Morris, Mildred Hayden, Nora Downs and Nolan Downs were honored.
